

2012 SPRING WORKSHOPS

Recharge the energy of your Friend's group by attending one of the FONCPL Spring Workshops! Held at five different locations around the state, the free workshops provide an opportunity for Friends to share ideas about special programs, successful fundraisers, effective book sales, and much more. Each workshop offers an informative speaker, roundtable discussions, and information on our Frances B. Reid and Volunteer-of-the-Year awards. Find out how to be a winner and receive additional funds for your Friends group!

Although our workshops are free, we do need to know how many are attending. Please select the date and location best for you and your Friends from the schedule on the back of this page. Mail the registration form below to the appropriate contact person from the list.

Questions? Email Kim Huskins Webb at foncpl@gmail.com or call 919-739-4993

Friends of North Carolina Public Libraries is a statewide volunteer organization dedicated to promoting excellent library service throughout North Carolina by providing the means for Friends to exchange ideas, information and experiences.

JOIN YOUR FRIENDS AT A WORKSHOP NEAR YOU!

FONCPL 2012 WORKSHOP REGISTRATION FORM

Name _____

Address _____

Phone _____ Email _____

Workshop Date & Location _____

Name of Library/Friends Group _____

Number Attending _____

Most workshops start at 10 AM and are over at 1 PM. Agenda may vary among locations.